The TestReach exam result display the number of attempts
Training Centres are advised that individual test scores may be shared with students upon request, but should not be available or visible to third parties without prior consent of the student. Physical score cards awarded to both successful and unsuccessful students should not indicate either the specific score gained, or whether the course was a first or subsequent attempt. To progress through NI training schemes, candidates are required only to pass accredited courses. This means percentage scores are not obliged to be shared by students at any point in their training or career. The NI reserves the right to request individual test scores for internal use only. Any questions should be directed to accreditations@nautinst.org.
